archists who committed crime were criminals, and that the defendants in the case were guilty, but the Court pronounced no judgment of outlewry against Anarchists as a body.

Judge Tuley then took up the claim on behalf of the police that they had the right to prevent the meeting, thereby preventing crime, and holds that the power granted by the law of the State for such a purpose cannot be given such latitude; that if the police may, at their discretion, do what they think will prevent what may, in their judgment, result in crime, Legislatures, courts or Government officers would be entirely superfinous.

The word "exploitation" is a French word, for which in English we have no precise definition. I understand the object intended is opposition to the present system or way of using capital—that is to say that capital shall be so used that labor will receive a greater share of the combined earnings of labor and capital than at present, and that capital shall not be used to a set to corress the people by combinasylvania Company is on trial before Judge Ewing. Didier had a car of bronze scrap con-

I may be mistaken in my interpretation, but whatever may be the meaning, as the object is to be accomplished by enlightenment and education of the masses, I find no law which prohibits the formation of secretics for such a purpose. A RARE occurrence happened in the Crimi nal Court yesterday. Several juries were out on cases and one case was going on before Judge Collier. When Judge Slagle started on the case against the Road Supervisors of Snowden township he found that the jury panel This right of free speech and free assemblage sisted for the defense that the objects and purposes of this society, as set forth in their con-strtution, are the same as that of the Interna-tional, which the Supreme Court of Illinois, in M. and Monroe B. Nellis, to have him removed the case of Spies et al versus the people, de- as executor of their mother's estate, because, the case of Spies et al versus the people, de-clared to be an unlawful conspiracy.

The resemblance was not pointed out, but from a review of the objects and purposes of the Internationalists, as the same are declared to be by the court in the Spies case, I am of the opinion that there is this vital difference between the societies. That is the Internation-als declared for "force," for organization for the purposes of rebellion, for "inexorable revo-lution," and for "assassimation." While in the "constitution" of this society there is nothing to indicate that their objects and purposes are to be accomplished by a resort to "force, revo-lution, rebellion or assassimation" in any con-tingency. as is alleged, be paid no attention to a cemetery lot in Bath, N. Y., provided for in the will, and because he had mismanaged the estate gener-erally. The demurrer of the executor claimed that the charges were vague and not specific enough, and that the petition should be dis-missed. In overruling the demurrer, the Court directed Nellis to at once make answer in court.

Absolutely Pure. Police powers are then defined, as settled by numerous decisions, which were quoted, and the opinion proceeded as follows: I am astounded to find at this day in this country that it be urged by affidavits and arguments in a court of justice that a policeman can forbid the meeting of a society, or a public meeting, because of his belief that the society is a trease able one and the members are about to commit treasonable acts. If this be law then every political, literary, religious or other society would hold their constitutional right of free speech and peaceable assemblies at the mercy of every petty policeman, for the chief in this respect has no more power than his lowest subordinate.

In no other city in the Union, in no part of In no other city in the Union, in no part of any State, have police officials attempted to prevent the right of free speech or of peaceable assemblage upon such unwarranted pretenses and assumptions of power. It is time to call a halt. The right of free speech and peaceable assembly is the very life-blood of freedom. You might as well expect the human body to exist after the circulation of blood had been suspended as to expect the continved existence of liberty, the citizen being deprived of the right of free speech and of peaceable assembly.

ARBITRARY ARRESTS BY OFFICERS of the right of free speech and of peaceable assembly.

But the question arises, are there no limitations or restrictions upon the exercise of these rights? The answer is, none by the will of the police and only such as the people, by the constitution and the Legislature, have placed thereon. Any abuse of the right of free speech or of assembly must be punished under the laws applicable thereto. If these complainants or any other persons have conspired, or were assembled to conspire, to attack life or property, arrest them upon complaint duly made under the law. If when lawfully assembled they act in a tumulituous of riotous manner or break the peace, disperse them in the way pointed out by the statute.

If they, when assembled or whether assembled or not, threaten the person or the life of any police official, judge or other individual, arrest them under the statute and bave them put under bonds to keep the peace in the way provided by law. The police, by arbitrary arrests without warrants and by such illegal acts as are here complained of, cause more disorder than they cure and create more crime than they prevent.

a man, who keeps pace with the back of science, speaks, his words have special im-portance. Here is what he says: "I had pneumonia twice during the past winter, and Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey was administered to me in suitable quantities by my fellow physicians, and with the best results.
A New York doctor friend, who was in attendance, was completely won over to the use of this great remedy. I have found it most useful this great remedy. I have found it most useful in consumption, pneumonia and in very many forms of dyspepsia and non-assimilation of food. Also in convalescence from any disease where a stimulant is helpful, I prefer Duffy's Pure Matt Whiskey to any form of spirits. I have all most entirely discarded the use of brandy, othe whiskies and even wine in these cases. I als desire to say that one of the greatest virtues o this whiskey is that it can be administered to the weakest and most delicate stomach, and that there is less reaction on the nervous system than from any other form of alcoholic stimulant with which I am acquainted."

Such, in brief, is the statement of one of the best physicians of the land, and it carries with it a most important lesson. People need not suffer but can prolong their lives by a careful use of the proper means.
